

Personal, Social and Emotional Development

Ideas and questions to explore in your setting

- How do certain styles of music make you feel?
- If you do play music in your setting, observe children carefully to look at how they may be emotionally responsive.
- Talk to children about how the music makes them feel.
- Does music appear to connect and bring children together in your setting?
Can music support social interactions?
- You can explore using music with emotions and feelings by using pictures/flashcards.
